

THE PRINTERS' HOT FIGHT.

ALL HANDS OUT THIS MORNING IN SEVERAL ESTABLISHMENTS.

Trouble Caused by the Settlement at Harper's—Both Sides Received to Battle to the End Over the Card Rule—Pressmen Helping Compositors—Committee Trying to Reach an Agreement, but It Looks Doubtful.

The battle between the union printers and the employers upon the card rule issue is being hotly waged. The printers have called out all hands in several establishments and threaten to call out those in others, while the employers have met the attack by advertising all over the country for non-union printers. They declare that they will keep their offices closed before they will give up the fight.

Regarding the reports concerning Harper Bros., the Union Committee this morning posted the following notice at Pythagoras Hall:

This is to certify that no non-union men are at present or will be employed by Harper Bros.

JOSEPH B. BROWN, Chairman of Strike Committee.

Mr. John Polhemus locked out his hands this morning because he had been informed that the Union Committee had effected a compromise with Harper Bros., whereby that firm was allowed to retain four non-union compositors. Mr. Smith said to an Evening World reporter that such was not the case. He explained that the four non-union men were removed from the composing room by Mr. Henry Harper on a statement of the committee showing that they had not acted on principle in refusing to abide by the Union rules. Mr. Harper will find employment for them in some other department of the house.

Mr. Burgoyne also threatened to lock out his men for the same reason, but after ascertaining the facts decided not to do so. Mr. Polhemus will take his men back.

All hands at J. J. Little's large establishment in Lafayette place are out, the pressmen leaving in order to sustain the printers. The strike committee was in conference at Vincent street with Messrs. Little and De Vinne trying to adjust the difficulty. The union men think that Mr. Little will concede the demands, but do not believe that Mr. De Vinne, who is a leader in the fight, will yield easily.

A member of the committee said: "We do not expect anything from Mr. De Vinne, and unless he yields this time we will call out every man in his place."

There are 250 employees in De Vinne's house.

The union will begin to pay strike benefits on Saturday. Married men will receive $12 a week and single men $7.

The members of the Typothetae who signed the circular announcing their intention to fight out the battle to the end and assert that none of them have yielded, but the union men declare that four have done so, namely: Coffin & Rogers, Coby & Co., J. C. Rankin and Edward Jenkins' Sons. From twelve hundred to two thousand men will go out to-morrow and more the day following. A thousand printers are expected here from Philadelphia.

GEN. KILPATRICK'S BODY HERE.

It Arrives From Aspinwall on the Newport This Morning.

The body of Gen. Judson Kilpatrick, late United States Minister to Chili, arrived here last night on the Pacific Mail Steamer Newport from Aspinwall. It was accompanied by Mrs. L. V. Kilpatrick and her daughters, Julia and Laura.

It was generally supposed that the interment would be in Deckertown, Gen. Kilpatrick's old home, and arrangements were made to that end, but Mrs. Kilpatrick announced on her arrival that the general had asked to be buried in the military cemetery at West Point.
